

X Banner Instructions

1. Assemble the 'X' by screwing the black poles into the central silver ring. The two poles with the longer silver ends should be at the bottom.

2. Insert the two silver support arms into the slots in the silver ends of the bottom of the X. Place the silver tube over the ends of them to hold them together, forming the X support at the base.

3. Fasten the two bottom rings of the banner to the base fittings on the front of the X. Pull the banner up towards the two fittings at the top of the X – note that you won't be able to attach them straight away.

4. Stand behind the banner and the X, and push one arm of the top of the X downwards, so that the downward pressure also causes the opposite bottom arm of the X and the central silver ring, to bend towards you. Affix the banner to the first of the top X fittings.

5. Do the same again for the other top fitting. The banner should now be set up correctly.
